Best-selling author and Stellar Books publisher Patricia C Byron will fully appraise the original manuscript with sense check for content errors, repetition, (in terms of style, vocabulary and content) grammatical and spelling errors. Once the author has improved the manuscript after the initial edit, it is then rechecked. There is then potentially a third read to ensure the new structure knits together well. Editing also includes two full prints of the manuscript for proofing purposes. Thereafter print outs will be charged at £15.00.

- Printing: Price of printing is subject to the type of paper used, page count, colour or mono and size of print run. A preliminary quote (for guidance purposes only) will be given once the manuscript has been formatted and the specification selected. A final quote will be given prior to print.
